Woman Arrested.

Some excitement was caused in the southern section of the city late yesterday afternoon by two women who were seated in a buggy and driving the horse in a careless manner. Officer Nicholson approached the couple and attempted to remonstrate with them, but they treated him with contempt and drove away too fast for the officer to overtake them. The behavior of the women brought many people into the streets, and a wheel of the buggy coming off their performances were brought to a sudden standstill. The horse became detached from the vehicle and started in a northerly direction through the street which caused a panic among women and children who feared they would be run over. Officer Nicholson had in the meantime reached the damaged buggy and seeing that one of the women was intoxicated took her into custody and with his prisoner started to the station house with the other woman following. Upon the arrival of the trio at the station house the woman under arrest manifested the greatest indignation. She gave her name as Etta G. Shields and said she lived at Braddock Heights. She termed her arrest a high-handed outrage, and swore that she would not only make the city pay damages for the indignities heaped upon her, but would also sue herself upon the policeman if she had to sell all her property. Mrs. Shields, in an excited manner and weeping, told Chief Webster that with a young woman visitor from Washington, who accompanied her, but whose name she refused to divulge, she was driving through the First ward when a wheel came off of their buggy. The accident, she said, drew a large crowd. She vehemently denied that she was intoxicated. The woman first declared that she would not deposit collateral and dared the officers to lock her up, but she finally relented and left $5 for her appearance this morning. The horse which had been secured, was held by the police. According to statements of witnesses the women drove the horse on Battery Rodgers hill and in attempting to turn the buggy capsized it. Four dozen empty beer bottles and some gin were found in the vehicle.

The women failed to appear in the Police Court this morning and the collateral was forfeited.

School Board.

At the monthly meeting of the City School Board held last night there were present Messrs. Thompson, Stabler, Yates, Ramsay, Thomson, Jones, Carne, Carter, Smoot and the Superintendent. In the absence of the chairman, Mr. Thompson presided.

The finance committee reported adversely on the resolution offered at the last meeting to direct the clerk to issue written obligations of the board to certain teachers, and the report was adopted. The same committee also recommended a postponement of consideration of the resolution to change section 7 of the by-laws and the report was adopted.

Mr. Stabler reported that some minor repairs had been made to the buildings since the last meeting.

The request of Miss T. E. Slayton for permission to enter her niece from Pennsylvania in the public school, was declined, as it was contrary to the school laws.

The Superintendent reported that the issuing of permits to children to attend the schools had been commenced on September 11, and continued during that week, and that the schools had been opened for study on the 18th—the day appointed by the board. The enrollment at the close of the month, was 518 white boys, 570 white girls; 264 colored boys and 316 colored girls, not quite so many as at the opening last year, when there were over 1,100 white pupils enrolled during the first month. He also reported that all the teachers had been present each day during the month.

Mr. Yates moved that the monthly teachers' meeting be held on Friday evening instead of Saturday morning and allow the teachers a half holiday on the day of meeting. After some debate the matter was referred to the committee on studies and discipline.

Bank Robber Convicted.

Robert Cassaday was convicted in the Circuit Court of Prince William county yesterday of robbing the National Bank of Manassas on the night of November 21, 1904, and sentenced to five years in the penitentiary. Cassaday was arrested with a gang of alleged bank burglars near Baltimore, and he, with three others of the gang, was taken to Manassas for trial, the cases of Fitzpatrick and Smith having been continued until the December term. The defense put three witnesses from Wilmington, Del., on the stand to prove that Cassaday was in that city on November 11. Among the witnesses was Peter Cassaday, a brother of the prisoner, and John Purcell, a police officer of Wilmington. Witnesses for the commonwealth testified that they saw the prisoner in and near Manassas on that date, and the jury elected to accept the testimony of home people. Richard Burnett, of this city, was one of the witnesses for the prosecution. Cassaday was convicted solely upon circumstantial evidence.

Concert.

The concert last night given at the Opera House for the benefit of Grace Church organ fund under the management of Mrs. O. F. Carter, was not so well patronized as had been hoped for, but those who were present were appreciative and evinced their pleasure in rapid attention and awarded a due measure of applause to each of the numbers on the programme which, as is usual with Mrs. Carter's efforts, was a decided success. Solos were splendidly sung by Miss Myra Cavalier and Miss Eichberg, Mrs. O. F. Carter and Miss Lelia M. Steiner played a duet on two pianos; Mr. J. Harris Franklin sang a baritone solo. Miss Flora Bernheimer and Mr. Wm. Scantlebury, jr., appeared before an Alexandria audience for the first time and were most cordially received. There were many other attractive features.

Shot at Colored Man.

Some excitement was created in the extreme southern portion of the city this morning by a difficulty which took place between Harry Simpson and a colored man named Bruce Haley, who lives at Spring Bank, Fairfax county, a short distance below this city. During the trouble Simpson produced a pistol and discharged it at Haley. It seems that the two men had had a previous difficulty which was renewed this morning when they met. Haley, it is alleged, struck Simpson, after which the latter fired his pistol at the darker. Later Simpson was taken into custody. It is said that the trouble originated in Haley resenting Simpson's conduct toward his wife. Simpson was released on collateral for appearance in the Police Court tomorrow.

Opera House.

The West Schuykill Press, of Tremont, Pa., has the following to say of the E. J. Tempest Dramatic Company, which will play in this city all next week: "The Tempest Dramatic Company opened the theatrical season in Union Hall on Monday night and continued every night of the week. The Tempest Dramatic Company is first-class in every particular. Their productions are all of a high character and persons of the most refined tastes can find nothing objectionable in any of their performances. Wherever this troupe appears they leave a good impression. They carry the finest scenery and handiwork costumes. Tremont would be glad to greet the frequent appearance of dramatic troupes of the character of the Tempest Dramatic Company."

An Unbearable Nuisance.

Attention was called a few days ago to a nuisance which has existed within the market enclosure near Market alley for years, and which is becoming more pronounced daily. A stifling stenches emanates from the sewer trap at that point, caused by the junction of the station house sewer and the drainings from the first market. Something should be done at once to eliminate this nuisance.

The city democratic committee will hold a meeting at the Hotel Fleischmann at 4:30 o'clock this evening to make final arrangements for conducting the primary on Thursday next to nominate a candidate for the clerk of courts. It is understood that the same rules that governed the primary held on May 29, last, will be adopted for the government of next Thursday's election.

Horse Killed.

A horse was run over and killed by a train on the Washington-Southern Railway last night. The animal had ascended the bank and made its way to the trestle over the Mubspot road near this city, where its feet had become wedged. The train struck the animal and cut off all four of its legs. The name of the owner of the horse could not be ascertained.

THE NEW CITIZENS' NATIONAL BANK.

The structure for the Citizens' National Bank of Alexandria, which is now receiving the finishing touches, is a fine example of the architecture of its architects, Jos. Evans Sperry, of Baltimore, and builders, Messrs. Richardson and Burgess, of Washington. The east side has large grated windows opening upon a wide areaway that furnishes light and air and is protected by metal shutters so that, isolated as it is from other buildings, it may be considered as near as possible fireproof.

The interior floor surface is about 42x43 feet and is concrete and overlaid with white marble tiles. The walls, which are white, are laid off in blocks by means of oak joists, which give the appearance of having been built of stone courses, and the ceiling is heavily paneled with massive moldings interspersed with effective rosettes or soffits. The entire scheme is enriched by an elaborate cornice formed of moldings, moldings, fretwork, and arabesque, all constructed of white plaster and in the construction of which more than two tons of metal were used for the supporting moldings and anchors. The vault, the entrance to which is in full view, is built upon the most modern principles and is as near fire and burglar proof as it is possible for one to be made by material and mechanism.

The massive revolving doors of the building are of the Van Kannel make. The arrangements for lighting are of the latest pattern, and the structure having been built to be illuminated with either electricity or gas. Several hundred safety deposits for the use of depositors have been placed in position and on the right and left of the entrance booths have been constructed for the accommodation of ladies. These have been furnished with mahogany desks and every other convenience. In the northeast corner a room has been reserved and fitted up for the use of patrons where their safety boxes can be examined in privacy.

Alexandria workmen have, in as large a measure as possible, been employed in the construction of the building. The business of the Citizens' Bank will be removed to the new building on Monday next. The present officers of the bank are: E. L. Daingerfield, president; William H. Lambert, vice president; William F. Lambert, cashier; E. L. Daingerfield, Wm. F. Lambert, M. A. Abern, Thos. Hulsh and W. F. Lambert. All these gentlemen have been for years well known in the business circles of Alexandria.
